DAVID'S DISPATCHES

Rev David Houlton

HARVEST FESTIVAL WAS VERY SPECIAL, with members of the Young Farmers, among others, contributing to the Service at Coniston Cold, and the Malhamdale Brownies and Rainbows parading their flags, contributing to the Service and running a Bake Sale after Harvest Festival at Gargrave. Thanks too for the hard work of all the parents, and many others, who contributed to the Harvest Services, meals and Sales of Produce. A blessed time was had by all!

Harvest time is less important to our lives than in previous generations. If there is a poor harvest in England we can import food from other areas of the world. But we, and every generation, will always ultimately rely on the earth to provide the food that we eat.

Because we feel less dependent, we possibly feel less of a need to ask God for help with our lives, and less need to develop our own personal spiritual relationship with Him. But, even though we won't go hungry if there is a poor harvest, life is still not easy, or secure. Losing a job, or illness, or other tragedies, soon bring us up short and remind us that life isn't certain. Having a developed spiritual dimension to our lives helps us face difficulties with faith - faith in God who loves us and is with us in everything. Being spiritually open to God has helped me over the years - when I was an Engineer, as well as now I am a vicar. If we have committed ourselves to Jesus, nothing can separate us from His love.

And that, ultimately, is the reason for the church. To help each person in our villages to develop their own spiritual relationship with God, and to help us involve God in our relationships we seek to live life well together.

Our church buildings bear testimony to God's blessing to the people who have gone before us. The history of Gargrave Parish Church goes back well over 1000 years and, famously includes a vicar who went on to be canonised by the Roman Catholic church as "St Robert of Newminster". The old St Andrew's Church in Gargrave was rebuilt in the 1850 - after hundreds of years the building had become unsafe - and St Peter's was built in the 1840s when Coniston Cold (and Bell Busk) became a separate parish. So now we have two fine buildings that remind us of the great truths of our Christian spiritual heritage and help us keep in touch with God. They are our villages' testimony to God's goodness to us, and both parishes' Church Councils, and the Gargrave Heritage group, are working hard to help us learn from our forebears and to ensure that the church buildings continue in good condition - to pass on our generations message of hope and blessing to those who will come after us. That is a great vision and they deserve our thanks and enthusiastic support. Lord Jesus, bless them and help them as they work hard to bless us and future generations in our villages. Amen!

Coffee Morning for Air Ambulance

Joyce Brotherton

At a recent meeting, the Gargrave Christian Mission Committee decided to support the Yorkshire Air ambulance this year. It is a very worthy cause and runs on public subscription. The date is Saturday November 28, 10am to 12 noon, in the Village Hall.

There will be the usual stall with the very popular choc tombola, cake and produce, books, bric a brac and toys. Also a raffle of a food hamper, kindly provided by the Co-operative. Donations will be gratefully received on the morning from 9am onwards, so come along and have a coffee and a chat with friends.

The new vicar

The new vicar was visiting in the homes of his parishioners. At one house it seemed obvious that someone was at home, but no answer came to his repeated knocks at the door. Finally he took out a card, wrote 'Revelation 3:20' on the back and stuck it in the door.

When the collection plate was processed the following Sunday, he found that his card had been returned. Added to it was this cryptic message, 'Genesis 3:10'.

Reaching for his Bible to check out the citation, he broke up in gales of laughter.

Revelation 3:20 begins "Behold, I stand at the door and knock." Genesis 3:10 reads, "I heard your voice in the garden and I was afraid for I was naked."

THE COFFEE MORNING

A group of seniors were sitting around talking about all their ailments at Coffee Club.

"My arms have got so weak I can hardly lift this cup of coffee," said one."

"Yes, I know," said another. "My cataracts are so bad; I can't even see my coffee."

"I couldn't even mark an "X" at election time because my hands are so crippled," volunteered a third.

"What? Speak up! What? I can't hear you, said one elderly lady!"

"My blood pressure pills make me so dizzy!" exclaimed another.

"I forget where I am and where I'm going," said another.

"I guess that's the price we pay for getting old," winced an old man as he slowly shook his head.

The others nodded in agreement.

"Well, count your blessings," said a woman cheerfully.... "Thank God we can all still drive".

Refugee crisis - first meeting of new Synod calls on churches to act

Diocese of West Yorkshire and the Dales

Church leaders at the first meeting of a new Diocesan Synod, held on 17 October in Harrogate, have called on congregations to do more to support refugees.

The newly constituted 'parliament' of the diocese, elected for a three year term, also voted to get behind a blood and organ donation campaign, agreed next year's budget and debated Mission and Pastoral structures for the five new Episcopal Areas of the diocese.

In his Presidential Address, Bishop Nick Baines gave a summary of recent developments as the diocese continues to take shape, setting local concerns in a global context. Looking ahead to the refugee debate later in the morning, he said, "The plight of refugees is desperate. ... the abuse by some should not blind us to the appalling choices faced by millions of people in this world. How we respond to their plight matters enormously."

CHRISTMAS PARTIES AT THE CONISTON SPA FROM £65 PER PERSON

Village Nativity Play Invitation

Ruth Abbott

We are planning to present our Village Nativity Play on Sunday 13 December at 4pm, in the way that we did it last year. Variations of this version of the play have been held at St Andrew's church for decades. The story, in the form of a series of readings, is narrated, while mainly adult actors mime out the story, wearing costumes from our collection. The action is interspersed with carols sung from the back of the church by a specially formed choir. It is a magical occasion.

We need children to be angels and junior shepherds and to assist the innkeeper. And adults are needed to be shepherds, kings, innkeeper, crowds for filling the inn, etc. We also need singers and helpers, and invite both newcomers and regulars to take part.

The rehearsal schedule is:

Sunday 29 November, 11.45 am - choir only
Sunday 6 December, 2pm - actors only
Saturday 12 December, 5pm - choir and actors

The performance:

Sunday 13 December, 4pm - choir, actors and audience!

If you'd like to be involved, or are interested in helping in any way, please contact Ruth Abbott on 748483 or Peter Poulter on 748944.

Village Hall decorating arrangements

From week commencing Monday 16 November, The Village Hall's Main Hall will be closed from Noon all week for decorating. Events in the Annex will continue as normal.

And from week commencing Monday 23rd November, the Village Hall Committee Room 1 will be closed all week for decorating. Events in the rest of the Village Hall will continue as normal.

We've been enjoying the new smart look of the hall's recently cleaned stone front wall that faces Neville Road, and the freshly painted glossy green side doors- thank you to all those involved. Ed.

Gargrave & Malhamdale Library latest

Dave Smith

Two successes to report:

Firstly, the NYCC Library Services Summer Reading Challenge entitled "Record Breakers" broke all records when 80 children signed up for the scheme, and 77 successfully completed the challenge. Congratulations to the children, their parents, the schools and the library volunteers.

The second success was the turnout for the film "My Old Lady". 80 people attended the viewing with the Café style seating creating a real social buzz around the hall during the breaks in the film.

John Merrell's family have kindly donated one of his paintings titled "A Woodland Scene" to the Library. The intention is to raffle the painting in order to raise funds for the Library. Raffle Tickets, priced at £1, are available for sale in the Library and the draw will take place at the Coffee Morning being held in the Village Hall on Saturday 19th December. A number of other activities are planned for the Coffee morning and further details will be revealed next month.

New book club & community library at Fisher Medical Centre.

Sheila Blackshaw

At Fisher Medical Centre, we want to encourage more patients to read. Picking up a book and reading is a great way to improve mental wellbeing. Mental wellbeing means feeling good – about yourself and the world around you – and being able to get on with life in the way you want. (NHS CHOICES)

There is a new Library on the ground floor waiting area which has a large variety of popular second hand books. Patients can simply take a book/s home to read and then swap it for another. If you have any unwanted books, you can donate them to this library.

This is a Practice Health Champions initiative. We are also forming a new book club, which will meet at the Medical Centre, hopefully once every fortnight, depending on the level of interest. Anyone can attend this club.

For more details or to register your interest, please call 01756 794136

Gargrave Poor's Land Charity application deadline

Hugh Turner

As usual the trustees propose to make a distribution to residents (for more than six months) of the ecclesiastical parish (which includes Bank Newton, Coniston Cold, Eshton, Flasby and Winterburn) around Christmas. As last year this will be distributed in early January. Applications are invited and must be received by the trustees no later than Monday 30 November. Application forms are available from the trustees, Phil Ellis – tel 748685, Graham Thomson – tel 07847-959394 or Hugh Turner – tel 748117.

Cash boost to enrich carer's lives

Caroline Coyle

Carers across Bradford District are invited to bid for a share of a £215,000 pot of grants to help revitalise their own health and wellbeing.

The Carer's Wellbeing Grant, formerly known as the Carer's Small Grant, encourages carers to apply for up to £200 to give them a much-needed break from the daily challenges of looking after a loved one. The scheme is funded by Bradford District Council with additional support from the three local NHS Clinical Commissioning Groups. Last year, 939 carers benefited in a variety of ways.

Co-ordinated by Carers' Resource, the district's integrated carers' service, the money can be spent on a personal treat, such as a short break, enjoying a hobby or leisure activity, or an educational course to help enhance their caring role and make their lives easier. Coun Ralph Berry said: "For some it may be a night away to recharge their batteries, or some new gardening tools - anything to help them feel energised again."

Those eligible should live, and care for someone, within the Bradford District, Airedale, Wharfedale or Craven areas. Caring may be for a family member, relative, friend or neighbour suffering with a physical or mental health problem, drug or alcohol addiction, or due to frailty and old age.

Applications will be processed between October 2015 and March 2016 and priority will be given to new applicants due to limited funding. Carers have until the final deadline of January 29, 2016 to submit their application form. The form can be obtained by emailing cwbgrant@carersresource.org, or by calling a dedicated answering machine on 01274 965883. Forms can also be downloaded from the website carersresource.org. For more information contact Carolyne Coyle, Communications Officer at Carers' Resource on (01274) 449660, email ccoyle@carersresource.org.

Pendle Forest and Craven Hunt

Elizabeth Adams

The hunter trials that were held on Sunday 4th October at Coniston Hall were a great success. The weather was so kind to us, as it was not too hot for the riders but the sun came out in the afternoon to warm everyone.

We had 160 riders around the fabulous course which is situated around the lake at Coniston. It was a good photo opportunity to get some action shots with a stunning backdrop. Everyone seemed to enjoy it and there were plenty of smiles from riders young and older when they had completed the course. Our grateful thanks go to the Bannister family for allowing everyone to ride over their estate.

The hunt is now into autumn hunting which are called bye days as they are prior to the opening meet. We have had some very warm sunny days whilst young hounds have learnt their job.

The opening meet is to be held on Saturday 17th October the beginning of our hunting season. Let us hope the fine dry days continue throughout the Autumn.

Pilates – November & December

Bee Faulkner

Our new 7 week block starts on Tues 3 November, coinciding with the school half-term. Our Christmas break will be for the fortnight 21 Dec to 4 Jan. We meet on Tues and Fri mornings at the Village Hall. Our gentle class on Tuesdays at 11.30am is inclusive for those who would prefer to remain sitting or standing rather than lying down. The Friday at 9am and Tues at 10am groups are more mat based. For more information or to book a place, please contact me on 749443.

Things to practice at home – challenging & improving your balance: Standing with weight in one leg & your tummy muscles engaged about 30%, (holding or touching a chair for reassurance if you need to) try lifting up your other heel until just your big toe is touching the ground. Then try lifting that toe off the ground too if you can, whilst maintaining your balance. (Increase the challenge if you like by closing your eyes!) Then repeat with your other leg...

FARMING ON SCALEBER HILL

John Hall

One of the joys of farming is to have an autumn as we have experienced this year: an abundance of grass, perfect weather and no shortage of water. Do we ever appreciate fully the environment we live in?

Having said this, by the time you read this it may well be all change. There is a saying "You can't take what we have had off us"!

Even in a quiet period there is always something to keep in mind. Right now (stagers) in cattle can be a serious problem. A shortage of magnesium can cause sudden death to suckler cows. I don't mean necessarily the lean ones, as the fit ones are just as liable. You may see blue buckets of magnesium in the fields to try to keep the feed balanced as the grass loses quality. One cannot be complacent with livestock as problems can occur very quickly.

Being semi-retired allows me to pick and choose my jobs. During the so-called quiet period in the autumn, I took advantage to visit several auctions and special sales: the likes of Hawes, Kirby Stephen, Carlisle and Lanker. It may seem like a bus man's holiday to some; farming of course is a way of life and these visits, as and when one can, are not to be missed.

Of course, one of my tasks was to replace the Herdwicks where age was taking its toll. Lisa also replaced some Jacobs and Zwartbles. These add a little spice to life and hopefully interest for walkers. My year wouldn't be complete without a visit to Oban and the highland cattle sale. I hope to report this next month.

As for the farm, the next group of dairy heifers are calving. So far so good until, inseminated with sexed semen, one produced a bull calf! There were a few words spoken one would not find in the dictionary!!!

After a very wet day, as I write these notes, the weather forecast is good for the weekend. This must be enjoyed as the clocks will soon be put back.

From: www.zwartbles.org: Zwartbles sheep were first imported from Holland in the early 1990's and have since become established in all areas of the UK and Ireland. Zwartbles are an elegant sheep (Zwart-Black, Bles-Blaze) with outstanding maternal properties making them an excellent crossing variety as well as a pure breed.

Pedigree Zwartbles have enjoyed considerable success in the show ring due to their striking appearance, amenable nature and lively character.

Notice in a farmer's field:

The farmer allows walkers to cross this field for free. But the bull charges.

BORED OF YOUR BOARD?

Andy Swinscoe, The Courtyard Dairy, Settle

Are you tired of boring blocks of Cheddar and the same-old Stilton?

Would you prefer to amaze your family this Christmas by creating a cheeseboard that they will be talking about well into the New Year? Well, it's not that difficult!

At last, after a period in the doldrums, Britain is again making wonderful cheese. And after years of propping up cheeseboards with the standard classics now is exactly the right time to impress your friends and family by celebrating all that is new and brilliant in the British cheese industry.

Twenty years ago, 90% of the cheeses I stock at the moment weren't even being made. But various economic factors, such as collapsing price of milk price, coupled with a massive upturn in interest in good food made by artisans, has meant many farms have returned to traditional cheese making

Here are my top cheese picks for this Christmas. Look out for them, because they'll make your Christmas cheeseboard a sure-fire standout talking point.

Capra Nouveau. Sarah Hampton has only been making cheese since 2010, using milk from her own herd of 60 goats. Capra Nouveau is a really interesting goats' cheese that stands out from the normal French goats' cheeses. Washed in cider and aged for two months, it is supple, fruity and floral... and incredibly delicious to eat.

Finn. Cream-enriched. Only the Parisians could think of adding extra-cream into the milk before making cheese, but Briton Charlie Westhead has adopted their recipe in Herefordshire to make Finn. Brie-style, but with added cream, it is a hedonistic delight, with a creamy, rich mousse-like paste.

SummerField. Alastair Pearson learnt his cheese-making trade abroad, and has brought to Yorkshire a little touch of the Alps. Following an Alpine recipe, Summerfield tastes like a 12-month-old Comté, with toffee and butterscotch flavours and a nutty finish. It's made by a Camphill Community, too, which employs people with social and learning disabilities. What's not to like?

St James. Martin Gott and his wife Nicola farm a small herd of 100 sheep in south Cumbria. Since 2006 they have used their rich sheep's milk to create this fabulous 'washed rind' cheese. It is rich and intense with meaty, savoury, flavours.

Dunsyre Blue. Selina Errington recently took on the legacy of her father Humphrey (creator in the 1980s of the famous Lanark Blue). Working with her sister-in-law Angela, she has tweaked and improved their cheeses. Smooth and flavourful blue Dunsyre Blue is fast becoming a talked-about cheese.

For Cheddar, why not try something different such as Barwhey's Cheddar or Hafod Cheddar. Tangy and powerful, these unpasteurised cloth-bound Cheddars have been aged for 12-months or more and are perfect examples of how good Cheddar can be with the revival of farmhouse cheese. Both started being produced in 2005 and illustrate exactly how much can be achieved in just 10 years. Seek these Cheddars out – you won't be disappointed.

TREAD LIGHTLY UPON THE EARTH

Alison Burgess

EARLY MORNING BY THE MOORINGS AT BANK NEWTON and some of the barges had hosted very busy spiders overnight whose gossamer webs were now glistening with dew against a backcloth of mist. Or had some invisible hand sprinkled them overnight with stardust? A week later a line of trees ahead of me along the farm track were fringed with their autumn colours and Keats' line on autumn slam-dunked itself into my brain and the 'Season of mist and mellow fruitfulness' was well and truly upon us.

The arrival of autumn prompted me to visit the location of the brambles where I pick blackberries but, alas, the encroaching bracken had now almost overrun them. So I settled on picking the few that were ripe and within reach which I shared with The Wink (Border Terrier) and The Merle (Labrador). Both dogs can pick their own blackberries if they are ripe and near the ground - a couple of years ago I found it saved time to show them rather than me picking berries for me, the pot and 2 dogs.

So I will be searching for another spot for brambling suitable for a human and 2 dogs to roam over. In the meantime, I was prompted to check that the blackthorn site I use for sloe picking was thriving as often these hedgerows are mechanically cut producing roughly shredded branches and annihilating the berries. Great, the bushes were intact and loaded with fruit and I will return after the first frost to gather them. And then, just as the arrival of autumn had taken me by surprise so will Christmas, but at least the sloe gin will be ready for the annual family and friend sloe gin competition. Cheers everyone!

American Independence Day

About twenty or so years ago, Dave and I went to Oregon in the USA with a group of about two dozen cyclists from the Cyclists' Touring Club. We flew to Portland and went south from there, heading down towards California, as the route was planned and accommodation had been booked well ahead. We started the tour in late June and by the Fourth of July we arrived at the town of Bend, still in Oregon, where we were booked in at a very nice hotel. Of course July the Fourth is American Independence Day.

As it was a holiday the hotel was having a barbecue for all the guests. It was a lovely warm evening and there was a firework display organised which started when it was getting dark. The local radio station was playing music which was coordinated to the fireworks, so it was quite entertaining. We had a good evening and everyone enjoyed themselves.

The following morning after we had breakfast, we were getting ready to check out and set off for the day's ride. We were in the foyer of the hotel and a middle-aged American lady, who was also a guest, started talking to Dave asking him if we were enjoying our trip and had we seen the previous evening's fireworks. Dave said yes we had enjoyed the celebrations with the fireworks and the music and the barbecue.

She asked where we came from, so Dave told her we were English.

'Do you celebrate Independence Day in England?' she asked.

'No,' Dave replied, 'You are celebrating your independence from us.'

With a look of astonishment she said, 'Oh my, is that right?'

THREE WHEELS!

Enid French

THIS IS A STORY of what might have been a disaster. Riding on my red "Ferarri" I rode down the village and around East Street and South Street. It was a very pleasant day and reluctant to go home I decided that I would ride round the churchyard to see that everything was in order. As usual it was quiet. Nothing much happening at all. Riding down to the gate I met another member of the congregation and we started to talk of many things. My companion suddenly said "What's that on the pavement across Church Lane?" "It looks like a wheel off something," I replied. Immediately going on to say with great conviction "It can't be off mine because I have just ridden round the churchyard."

Famous last words! I looked down and there was an empty space where there should have been a wheel! Grinning broadly at each other there was a spontaneous rendition of "Three wheels on my wagon and I'm still rolling along." And neither of us had had a drop to drink! Luckily and thankfully a gentleman was working in the churchyard and, when we asked for help, he immediately said that he could fix it. Disaster averted! Thank you to that gentleman and also for people with a sense of humour.

Cross Country

21 pupils took part in the cross country at Skipton from year 3 to 6. It was a fabulous event and we're so proud of every pupil who tried their hardest on a tough course. Six pupils go through to the next round as they finished in the first 8 places. The qualifiers were: Neive Roberts (2nd), Emma Wills (8th), Joey Driscoll (3rd), Bela Dean (2nd), Annie Faulkner (4th) and Beth Roberts (1st).

WHEN MY LAD STARTED SECONDARY SCHOOL, I was surprised – OK, shocked – to find that something had happened to his friends over the summer: nearly all of them had acquired smart phones, and were taking them in to school.

Now, I admit, I have a smart phone. Most of my friends do, too. But 11-year-olds?

In his first technology class, prompted by questions from the teacher, my son discovered that only he and one other classmate out of about 30 do not have a social media account of some form. So not only does he feel left out, but he also felt slightly singled out. This week, he came home saying that three times in one day, teachers invited pupils to use their phones, as timers or cameras.

I'm not blaming the school. But it does make me wonder, as a parent, as well as a Christian, how we can help young people to engage courageously and imaginatively with their culture – or is it our culture? whose culture is it? – without succumbing to the seemingly inevitable.

Scientists have recently suggested that overdosing on screen time may have a detrimental effect further down the line with GCSEs. A separate study from the LSE in May found that smart phones in schools affect grades adversely, especially among slower learners. And this week the OECD reported that computer technology in the classroom hampers progress. But data like this won't bring much consolation to the kids whose parents ask them to go without.

What's more compelling for my son, I think, is that last year at primary school, his friends so loved playing football together every break that they hardly had time to eat; now, if I ask him what he does at lunchtime, he sighs, and says that most people get their phones out instead.

Connection surely lies at the heart of the matter. When we're plugged incessantly into the Matrix of social media, we can lose connection with the beauty of the present moment; and with each other; and with God. We're not 'here', as we could be.

Perhaps the most positive thing we adults can do – an urgent moral duty, even? – is to confront our own addiction to devices first – and to model, as Christians, more of what it means to follow the God who showed up, fully, incarnate. For the lesson about culture – I remember it now – is that transformation only ever starts with me.

Monthly meeting, 5 October

County Councillor's report: Cty Cllr. Shelagh Marshall reported on the problems caused by the resurfacing work over the years on the A65 through Coniston Cold which is resulting in the road surface being above the level of kerbs. She was told of similar instances on Marton Road. If there are other such sites in the village please notify the Parish Clerk.

The new bus timetables and changes to services around the area were discussed. We are asked to use the services as much as is practical if their future is to be secured.

Craven District Councillor's report: Cllr. Simon Myers reported on the different proposals in respect of the areas to be covered by devolution.

Public participation: Sandy Tod gave a presentation to the Council regarding renewable, sustainable, clean energy projects around the immediate area. The emerging group ("CEGAM") is to put a questionnaire around the village and hamlets to ascertain energy use. He also asked the Parish Council to write a letter to help the group in applying for funding. The Council agreed to do so.

Speeding update: The results of checks on Marton Road are still awaited and it was reported that the checking system is to be installed on other roads in the village.

Remembrance Day: This is to be Sunday 8 November. Parish Cllr. David Syms is to lay a wreath at the village War Memorial on behalf of the Parish Council. There will be a brief service at the War Memorial starting at 10.45am, followed by a service at St. Andrew's church. ALL ARE WELCOME.

Also that weekend at St. Andrew's church there is to be a Magna Carta display and the FINAL VERSION OF YOUR NEIGHBOURHOOD PLAN will be available.

Finance: It was reported that PKF Littlejohn, the external auditors appointed by the Government, have returned the documentation for the audit for the year ended 31 March 2015. Please contact the Parish Clerk if there are any queries.

Next meeting will be at 7-15 pm on Monday 2nd November in the Village Hall.
